DISCIPLINE

Discipline: The dictionary defines discipline as “training which corrects molds, strengthens, or perfects.” It has no connotation of punishment. Military discipline is an outward manifestation of mental attitude and state of training, which renders obedience and proper conduct instinctive under all conditions. Being disciplined means that the cadets are learning to place the tasks of their cadet corps and team above their personal desires. Cadet behavior is expected to be of the highest caliber, both in and out of the JROTC classroom. Cadets are expected to conduct themselves always in a manner that will reflect credit upon themselves, their parents, the JROTC corps, their high school, and the United States Army.

DISCIPLINE

- For serious infractions of discipline, the SAI, with the approval of the school principal, may demote a cadet, suspend a cadet from participation in cadet activities and/or remove a cadet from the JROTC program. The mission of JROTC is positive in nature, and considering the age and maturity of the students involved, everyone engaged in JROTC will make every effort to salvage each student for his own good and the good of the system
